Rugby World Cup 2011

Rugby World Cup 2011 is finally here! Auckland was host to an amazing opening ceremony and first game on Friday night. The first games have been great to watch and full of energy. There are many more games and excitement to come in the next 5 weeks. Head to some of the pool games if you can, tickets are still available and start from $31!

When going to game at Eden Park, why not walk the fan trail: Its free, good exercise and a great chance to meet fellow rugby fans. Grab one of the RWC info brochures at Reception or just ask and we can point you in the right direction.

The central city is a good place to meet up before and after the game or even to watch it if you haven't got tickets. A lot of bars will have at least one screen up playing all the games.

Places to visit

Wynyard Quarter is now open! On the site of the old Silo Park, Wynyard Quarter is Auckland's newest public space. Head down and check it for awesome views over the harbour and to take a ride on the beautifully restored 1920's trams.

If the weather is bad why not go to Auckland Museum, Kelly Tarltons or Voyager Maritime Museum. They are great places to pass the time if the weather isn't the best.

On a warm sunny day, pack a picnic lunch and head out to Bastion Point or Mission Bay. The both offer beautiful views of both the harbour as well as the city and are good for catching some much needed sunshine.

Guest Services

Over Rugby World Cup we have a guest service agent here at City Lodge.

Melanie is originally from Canada and has been in New Zealand for 3.5 years. She has travelled the whole country and is full of local knowledge she wants to share with you.

Come and meet Melanie in the tour room by Reception for great deals.
